Palm Sunday

Those preceding him as well as those following kept crying out:
"Hosanna!

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!
Blessed is the kingdom of our father David that is to come!
Hosanna in the highest!"

- Mk 11:9-10

LIVING OUR FAITH

From the Desk of Fr. Pastorius

1. Holy Week

If then Death was the supreme moment for which Christ lived, it was therefore the one thing He wished to have remembered. He did not ask that men should write down His Words into a Scripture; He did not ask that His kindness to the poor should be recorded in history; but He did ask that men remember his Death. In order that its memory might not be any haphazard narrative on the part of men, He himself instituted the precise way it should be recalled. - Archbishop Fulton Sheen. I invite you to please prayerfully attend as many Holy Week events as possible. Our participation in these liturgies will help us grow in faith in ways that we could never imagine if we but open our hearts to the Lord.

2. Faith & Family Programming: March 31, 2015 - 5th Tuesday No Events tonight.

Confessions will still be offered from 5-5:25PM and Mass will still be at 5:30.

3. Financial Assistance for School Families.

Epiphany of Our Lord Parish offers financial assistance to families who wish to attend a Catholic School. The tuition assistance that we can offer depends upon the needs of the family and the number of families that apply. Any family wishing to receive financial assistance will need to participate in our School Covenant Program. Part of this program is a meeting with Father Pastorius and two other parishioners. Times are set aside on 3/12, 4/14, 5/14, 6/30, 7/16 & 8/11. Please call Fr. Pastorius at the rectory to set up an appointment for one of those days. 314.781.1199

4. Fish Fry Thank You

One last fish joke for this Lenten season - A mother's advice to her recently engaged daughter: "Cook a man a fish and you feed him for a day, but teach a man to fish and you get rid of him for the whole weekend." Seriously, I am extremely grateful to everyone who has, once again, made Epiphany of Our Lord one of the best fish fries. Without your dedication and service we would not be the great parish that we are.

5 Saint Louis Life Teen

If you are a teen or have a teen that did not participate in our Luke 18 retreat weekend at DuBourg high school, you have no idea what you missed. Everyone who participated had fun, created new friends, and deepened their relationship with the Lord. Don't miss out any more. Attend St. Louis Life Teen on Wednesday at DuBourg at 7 PM. I am so confident in our program that I am going to put my money where my mouth is - Any Epiphany teen that attends four events between now and June 1st will be entered into a raffle. I will pull one name out of the hat and that person will receive a $100 gift card to Amazon, iTunes, or for gas.

6. Congratulations to Our Little Lambs who received their First Reconciliation

Last weekend before the parish penance service, Our Little Lambs received went to the Sacrament of Reconciliation for the first time. On Divine Mercy Sunday they will receive their First Communion at the 11 AM Mass.

7. Receiving Communion

I would like to draw attention to the proper way to receive the Eucharist at Mass. When you approach the priest, deacon or extraordinary minister, they will say "Body of Christ." There is only one correct response and that is "Amen." It is not "thank you," "yes," or silence. Secondly you should either stick out your tongue or place one hand open and palm up on top of the second hand (see picture). The only exception to this is if someone has to hold onto a cane and I would suggest in that situation that a person receive on a tongue. A person should consume the Host immediately upon receiving it. A person also should never break the host into smaller pieces for fear that crumbs will fall onto the ground. If one drops or spills a Host or the Precious Blood the minister should stop what he or she is doing and retrieve the dropped host or cover the spill with a purificator and then notify the priest or deacon.

God bless,
Fr. Tom

Palm Sunday of the Lord's Passion Lectionary: 37 & 38 Mk 15:1-39

Spiritual Reflection: Christ's cry of abandonment which He felt standing in a sinner's place, but it was not despair. The soul that despairs never cries to God. - Archbishop Fulton Sheen

Spiritual Questions

1. How is a cry of desperation also a prayer of hope?
2. Why is it only the Roman centurion that recognizes Jesus as the Son of God?
3. How is "dying" Jesus' greatest act of Love and how does that relate to the fact that "God is Love"?
4. Are you living your life in such a way that others see the love you have for them?
5. Who is Jesus to you?

Spiritual Ponderings

Spiritual Warriors

"Christian is nothing but a sinful man who has put himself to school for Christ for the honest purpose of becoming better." - Henry Ward Beecher. Let us continue to look at what it means to be a soldier of Christ. For help with this reflection, I would like to turn the following article "10 Life Lessons from A Navy Seal. I will Always Remember #4" which was published in the Business Insider. The article will be in bold and my reflection will be in regular font.

As Navy SEALs one of our jobs is to conduct underwater attacks against enemy shipping. We practiced this technique extensively during basic training. The ship attack mission is where a pair of SEAL divers is dropped off outside an enemy harbor and then swims well over two miles—underwater—using nothing but a depth gauge and a compass to get to their target. During the entire swim, even well below the surface there is some light that comes through. It is comforting to know that there is open water above you. But as you approach the ship, which is tied to a pier, the light begins to fade. The steel structure of the ship blocks the moonlight—it blocks the surrounding street lamps—it blocks all ambient light. To be successful in your mission, you have to swim under the ship and find the keel—the center line and the deepest part of the ship. This is your objective. But the keel is also the darkest part of the ship—where you cannot see your hand in front of your face, where the noise from the ship's machinery is deafening and where it is easy to get disoriented and fail. Every SEAL knows that under the keel, at the darkest moment of the mission—is the time when you must be calm, composed—when all your tactical skills, your physical power and all your inner strength must be brought to bear. #8. If you want to change the world, you must be your very best in the darkest moment.

A priest that I met while studying for a certificate in Spiritual Direction is fond of saying that the devil only has two lies. The first lie is that "you are not good enough," and the second lie is that "you are alone." All temptations boil down to these two lies. God though has promised that we can do all things with Him and that He is Emmanuel "God with us." Thus making the devil the "father of lies." Remember these two things when things seem dark.

Spiritual Exercise: Find 10 things to be grateful about.

The ninth week of training is referred to as "Hell Week." It is six days of no sleep, constant physical and mental harassment and—one special day at the Mud Flats—the Mud Flats are an area between San Diego and Tijuana where the water runs off and creates the Tijuana slue's—a swampy patch of terrain where the mud will engulf you. It is on Wednesday of Hell Week that you paddle down to the mud flats and spend the next 15 hours trying to survive the freezing cold mud, the howling wind and the incessant pressure to quit from the instructors. As the sun began to set that Wednesday evening, my training class, having committed some "egregious infraction of the rules" was ordered into the mud. The mud consumed each man till there was nothing visible but our heads. The instructors told us we could leave the mud if only five men would quit—just five men and we could get out of the oppressive cold. Looking around the mud flat it was apparent that some students were about to give up. It was still over eight hours till the sun came up—eight more hours of bone chilling cold. The chattering teeth and shivering moans of the trainees were so loud it was hard to hear anything and then, one voice began to echo through the night—one voice raised in song. The song was terribly out of tune, but sung with great enthusiasm. One voice became two and two became three and before long everyone in the class was singing. We knew that if one man could rise above the misery then others could as well. The instructors threatened us with more time in the mud if we kept up the singing—but the singing persisted. And somehow—the mud seemed a little warmer, the wind a little tamer and the dawn not so far away. If I have learned anything in my time traveling the world, it is the power of hope. The power of one person—Washington, Lincoln, King, Mandela and even a young girl from Pakistan—Malala—one person can change the world by giving people hope. #9. So, if you want to change the world, start singing when you're up to your neck in mud.

"If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives: Be kind anyway. If you are successful you will win some false friends and true enemies: Succeed anyway. If you are honest and frank people will try to cheat you: Be honest anyway. What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight: Build anyway. If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous of you: Be happy anyway. The good you do today, will often be forgotten by tomorrow: Do good anyway. Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough: Give your best anyway." — Mother Teresa .

Spiritual Exercise: How are you going to Change the world? Find a Christian song on the radio and sing along.

Finally, in SEAL training there is a bell. A brass bell that hangs in the center of the compound for all the students to see. All you have to do to quit—is ring the bell. Ring the bell and you no longer have to wake up at 5 o'clock. Ring the bell and you no longer have to do the freezing cold swims. Ring the bell and you no longer have to do the runs, the obstacle course, the PT—and you no longer have to endure the hardships of training. Just ring the bell. #10. If you want to change the world don't ever, ever ring the bell.

Before you give up on the Catholic Church be sure that you know what you are giving up? The Catholic Church may not be the most entertaining but it is the only Church that dates back to Christ.

Spiritual Exercise: Do a daily examination of conscience

To the graduating class of 2014, you are moments away from graduating. Moments away from beginning your journey through life. Moments away from starting to change the world—for the better. It will not be easy. But, YOU are the class of 2014—the class that can affect the lives of 800 million people in the next century. Start each day with a task completed. Find someone to help you through life. Respect everyone. Know that life is not fair and that you will fail often, but if you take some risks, step up when the times are toughest, face down the bullies, lift up the downtrodden and never, ever give up—if you do these things, then next generation and the generations that follow will live in a world far better than the one we have today and—what started here will indeed have changed the world—for the better. Thank you very much. Hook ‘em horns.
